

Loyola Marymount University

Tenure-Track in African or Middle Eastern History

The Department of History at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in sub-Saharan African History or Middle Eastern history, chronological focus open, at the rank of assistant professor beginning August 2022. The successful candidate will be expected to teach lower-division courses in African or Middle Eastern history and world history, as well as upper-division courses in the area of specialization. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to one or more of the following History Concentrations: Law, Politics, and Society; Environment, Science, and Technology; Public and Applied History; Race, Gender, and Culture; and Global Economies, Encounters, and Exchange.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experiences, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about LMU's commitments and our efforts at (<https://resources.lmu.edu/officeofinterculturalaffairs/>).

Applicants should submit a complete dossier, including (1) a letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) sample syllabi, and (6) writing sample, online at Tenure Line History \(myworkdayjobs.com\). Three letters of recommendation should be emailed directly to historydepartment@lmu.edu. For questions, contact Constance Chen, chair of the search committee, at constance.chen@lmu.edu. The application deadline is October 15, 2021. Ph.D. required by August 2022.

AAIHS
African American Intellectual History Society

<https://www.aaihs.org/resources/af-am-job-openings/>